POLITICAL NOTES

The Democracy of the First District of Tennessee talk of running Andrew Johnson for their Representative in Congress

Here is a definition of the "new departure" A platform arranged on a patent turn table with all modern improvements and a side track connecting with all known political parties

The high toned Democracy of Massachusetts are greatly disgusted with Andrew Johnson for saying that Massachusetts is a poor place to look for a Presidential candidate—though John Q Adams is a man of considerable ability

The Lynchburg Virginian like the Memphis Appeal refuses to "depart" It accepts nothing in the language of Mr Davis, and says that it is necessary now more than ever to unfurl the spotless banner of the white man's party"

Many of the leading Democratic papers of the South spit upon the Ohio platform of unconditional surrender The New York World echoes the new Democratic cry and makes faces at Jeff Davis It says he has nothing to tie to is a bankrupt politician a blundering old man, the last of the antediluvians and so forth The Chicago Tribune thinks that is all very well but the fact remains that Jeff Davis could carry nine tenths of the Democracy of the South, and a large portion of the North, upon any platform which he might propose, despite the World Vallandigham and the devil If the new platform is accepted at the South, it will be because Jeff Davis permits it.

An Indignant Protest

The Jacksonville Times takes the Herald of this city severely to task because the latter has accepted the "new departure" We do not care to reproduce the malicious epithets, which the Times hurls at its colaborer in the Democratic vineyard But we quote what it says in regard to the policy of accepting the amendments to the Constitution against which Democrats have warred so long

If the Democracy of Oh[illegible] heretofore dictated the platforms of [illegible] racy and the party [illegible] upon the eve of a political [illegible] be some propriety in [illegible] "New Departure" and [illegible] ing a platform which [illegible] involves some very nove[illegible] sitions But none of th[illegible] we have been in the habit o[illegible] platforms and our election[illegible] distant And besides [illegible] of the Union, and part[illegible] are already upon the rac[illegible] ing the very proposition[illegible] new departure feat[illegible] form These feature[illegible] amendments to the Co[illegible] Democracy claim to [illegible] from that instrument [illegible] culiar features of the [illegible] the fundamental pr[illegible] party is founded [illegible] concede that in m[illegible] Democracy of the so[illegible] differing and some [illegible] tions we deny that th[illegible] ples without perilin[illegible] Democracy Now the [illegible] Constitution the Demo[illegible] amendments in the prop[illegible] admit the validity of the [illegible] essentially change the ch[illegible] stitution and destroy som[illegible] portant guarantees of [illegible] erty to be found in th[illegible] recognize the existence [illegible] as a part of the Constit[illegible] the validity of the ra[illegible] mit away all that the [illegible] ing for since the time [illegible]

Good Results at Small Expense

It may be doubted whether any single effort ever did so much toward making Oregon and its resources known abroad and its attractions to settlers understood in other States as was accomplished by the Board of Statistics and Immigration that was in operation in this city for some time, but which was suffered to expire for want of support The efficient labors of its Secretary, Col J M Drake were better recognized in California and the Eastern States than in Oregon Very much of the attention which Oregon is now receiving from Eastern people was first aroused and drawn in this direction by printed matter, prepared and put into circulation under the supervision of the Board The documents printed by the Board have been more noticed and [illegible] more widely than any others Eastern journals have given synopses of them, and some of them have been republished entire in Bu[illegible] reports at Washington, and thus have been [illegible] a prodigious circulation In a special report on immigration, just issued by the [illegible] of Statistics, the material parts of one [illegible] most valuable pamphlets issued by our Board are inserted for the purpose of supplying immigrants with information relative to Oregon The cost of maintaining the Board was not large, but the late Legislature, which was intent on such despoiling transactions as that of making a spoil of the school and [illegible] lands for the benefit of jobbers and political friends and partisans, was quite too [illegible] in its ideas to appropriate a moderate sum to keep up an institution of vast importance to the whole State In view of the good results of the institution, as [illegible] operations, we know not whether the city of Portland could do better than to take hold and revive it Certain it is that no expenditure of an equal sum of money ever did so much for the State in this [illegible] direction as was accomplished by the Board during the brief period of its existence

A Disparager Rebuked

The [illegible] candid, careful and conscientious [illegible] published at San Francisco [illegible] a flippant writer in Tilton's [illegible] charges the Administration of Grant the terrible accusation of having attained only a mediocre success" This wise person says the Pacific, has not condescended [illegible] what would have been a brilliant success but we are sure that no administration has [illegible] a more positive and needed [illegible] after a long war, and a plenty of [illegible] had a great debt to provide for [illegible] difficulties to reconcile, foreign disputes and claims to adjudicate, that were of the gravest character, constitutional amendments to make, and a nation's pledges to redeem. The Administration of Grant has had our national affairs well in hand only two years and in these two years, it has done all that it promised, and more than could reasonably have been expected in twice twelve months In the State Department, look at [illegible] England, over which we all rejoice and the world is glad In the Treasury Department no success was ever grander More than a quarter of a billion of dollars of national debt has been paid off, and the annual interest account has been reduced by twenty millions of dollars, while the cost of carrying on the Government has been each year diminished; and the taxes also The nation's credit and character were never higher than to-day In two more years, with this sort of success, we shall be beyond question a free people If any choose to call this sort of success mediocre, very well, but it perplexes us to know how a brilliant success is ever to be attained in this imperfect world If we cannot be thankful for Grant's Administration let us be manly enough not to disparage it

The Cotton Crop

A report from the Agricultural Bureau at Washington dated a week since, states that latest advices from the Southern States indicate that the continuation of unfavorable weather will reduce the yield of cotton below estimates previously made We quote from the report

It is assumed that the crop cannot exceed three and a half millions bales, and may fall to three millions under the combination of unfavorable circumstances The condition of the growing plant is below an average in nearly every State The spring has been unusually wet and cold retarding its growth and causing many plants to turn yellow and die To a large extent replanting has failed in vacant spaces The weather has recently been more favorable and it is not impossible that an average condition may be attained by the commencement of the picking season The condition of the cotton crop in 1869, a year favored with an abundant yield, was only little better than the showing of June this year Wh[illegible] the prospect is slightly unpromising there is nothing in it of a decisive character

Robert Toombs thinks that the highest civilization in the world is that of Virginia and Georgia Andersonville, if we remember rightly was one of the products of Georgia civilization and Belle Isle and Libby Prison conspicuous outgrowths of that of Virginia It is obvious that Mr Toobs notion as to what constitutes a high degree of civilization is like the Heathen Chinee, peculiar Indeed he says himself that the "highest type of modern civilization is a thinly settled country where people have room enough and not interfere with each other, and where [illegible] is owned or controlled by [illegible] holders" This is what he calls [illegible] and it is what our so-called [illegible] party has always contended

[illegible] recent number of Harper's Weekly contains one of those excellent cartoons, one of which is worth a whole year of sermonizing [illegible] entitled "Under the Thumb" the thumb [illegible] that of William M Tweed, and the [illegible] under it is the great city of New York, [illegible] and shipping, together with a good [illegible] of New Jersey We do not know what [illegible] New York will make to the query [illegible] is put into the mouth of the 'Boss [illegible] what are you going to do about it?' [illegible] suppose she will have to grin and bear it [illegible] Mr Tweed enriches his followers to the [illegible] that they are able to give three quarters [illegible] of dollars in wedding presents to [illegible] daughter and his fortunate son in law, Maginnis

According to the census, the native population of Oregon last year was 79 323 the foreign born population was 11,600 It thus appears that about one-eighth of our population is foreign-born Of the inhabitants of Washington Territory, 18,931 are native, and 5,024 of foreign birth The foreign born population of Washington Territory is thus shown to be nearly twice as large in proportion to the whole population, as that of Oregon.

The latest direct advices from Montevideo and Buenos Ayres bring terrible pictures of the ravages of the yellow fever in that quarter The accounts received show that the pestilence had assumed a virulence seldom precedented anywhere, and that the extent of its ravages had largely and steadily increased One account thus describes the situation at Buenos Ayres.

A veritable pall seemed to have been thrown over the once lovely capital of the Argentine Republic and the imagination could easily ascribe the intense feeling of oppression which prevailed to a universal death gloom of all within The air loaded with contagion had a suffocating effect which even extended to the remarkably deep-toned bells so peculiar to the churches of all Spanish American cities The chimes once so sonorous gave forth a cracked death like clank as they tolled cortege after cortege from the sanctuary to the cemetery In the commercial quarter the marts were deserted and the busy hum silenced, for the merchant, with all his eagerness to accumulate wealth, has long since fled before the fatal march of the malady with those much dearer to him than all his gold The gloom, the sadness was all pervading even the shipping that lay in the glassy stream in front of the city, though not infected with the disease, looked dull, motionless and lifeless as they rode idly at anchor, with their huge sails dangling languidly against the masts, giving evidence of the panic and wholesale desertions from on board

In the suburbs, recently embowered in bloom and floral loveliness, the shrubbery and plants appeared to have partaken of the surrounding ghastliness, and languished and died where once they grew in such rank luxuriance

General Sherman's Letter

The following is the full text of Gen Sherman's to the New York Herald, written for the purpose of preventing any further use of his name as a candidate for President in 1872

FORT SILL, COMANCHE RESERVATION,
May 25, 1871

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD

I have been skirting the Texas frontier for the past month, and here for the first time I meet files of Eastern papers, by which I see quite an unnecessary muss has been raised by a purported speech made by me at a supper of the Union League Club of New Orleans the night preceding my departure from that city Whoever reported that as a speech by me committed a breach of propriety, for Governor Warmoth presided, and before consenting to respond to a call I was assured by the president of the society that no reporters were present and that whatever was said would be sacred and confined to the persons present Now as to politics I think all my personal friends know my deep-seated antipathy to the subject, yet as you seem not to understand me, I hereby state, and mean all that I say that I never have been and never will be a candidate for President; that if unanimously elected I should decline to serve

If you can find language stronger to convey this meaning you are at liberty to use it

I am your obedient servant,

W T SHERMAN, General

COAST DEFENSES —"Gath," the noted correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, has been traveling on the coast, and takes the following view of the defenses of San Francisco harbor

It is but forty minutes from our pier into the Pacific ocean, so close does San Francisco lie to the main The forts defending the inlet are small and unimpressive, and an artillery officer on board informed me that the metropolis of the Pacific was next to defenseless He said that Colonel Alexander, of the engineers, had been experimenting on the feasibility of planting torpedoes in the channel of the Golden Gate, where the water is very deep One torpedo, attached to an anchor, and given a long excess of cable was thrown in opposite Fort Point and it at once disappeared, and has never been recovered. The cause is the strength of the current, which moves at the rate of twelve miles an hour and carries the torpedo under, while the reflux tide, equally strong, repeats the same process reversedly There are few cities in the world so vulnerable in time of war as this one, the best way to defend it is to keep out of war.

REBELLIOUS DEMOCRACY —The Iowa Democrats do not take to Vallandigham's new departure platform with a great deal of alacrity, as may be inferred from the following extract from the Ottumwa Democrat "A dog will lick the hand of his master, even while suffering under chastisement, but a cur even will resent a kick from a stranger when driven to a corner Mr Clement Vallandigham, if he is possessed of a spark of manhood, must feel his cheek tingle with shame while receiving the congratulations of Radicals over his Montgomery county resolutions Does he desire to lick the hands of those that smote him? Let him, then, pay a pilgrimage to the tomb of Lincoln, and there, bowing down before the marble, implore forgiveness of the shade of the lamented, and ask pardon for 'treason' which he committed under the inspiration of Democracy That would complete the charming picture"

The immense territory lying immediately South of the Mountains of the Moon, marked on the maps as "unexplored" and supposed to be an arid, sterile waste, has been traversed by Dr Livingstone, and we may expect some interesting revelations from him. It appears highly probable, from what is already known, that the whole interior of Africa for ten degrees each side of the equator is a fertile region, abounding in vegetation and rich in other resources From present indications it is not improbable that the great "unknown" country will yet attain a position of considerable importance in the commercial world

If the reported earthquake in China be true, our celestial neighbors must have experienced a decided shaking up Wide fissures appeared in the earth through which black streams shot forth to a high distance, and the slightest puncture of the surface was all that was required to produce a lively fountain of discolored water. What is more wonderful still, the shocks continued for a period of ten days The phenomenon appears to have been scarcely less frightful than the earthquake in South America in 1868 though not so destructive of human life The account has an oriental coloring, and may prove to have been greatly exaggerated

'THE NEW DEPARTURE' —The Oregon papers, claiming to be Democratic, with the single exception of the Portland Herald, are out spoken in their denunciation of the Vallandigham platform This 'new departure' is regarded as an abandonment of the principles for which Democracy have so long struggled, and as an admission that the radicals were right and their opponents in the wrong The Democracy of this coast are not prepared to make any such admission, and hence the unqualified condemnation of Vallandigham's surrender —Walla Walla Statesman

The Herald has swallowed Vallandigham's "new departure" platform, but the State Rights Democrat won't swallow that same worth a cuss, and goes for the Herald in a style quite refreshing to see The Democrat made the Herald take water on the famous 'Eighth Resolution' once on a time, and we predict that it will make the Herald go back on Vallandigham now —Jacksonville Times

MURDER

A TRAGEDY IN A COURT ROOM—A COLORED MAN DELIBERATELY KILLED BY ANOTHER—THE DENOUEMENT OF A LONG STANDING FAMILY QUARREL

Yesterday morning a little past 10 o clock, a colored man named Isaiah Graham was shot and killed by another colored man named Thomas Ward in the office of T J Dryer, Justice of the Peace and Coroner of Multnomah county. There had been, for some months, a bitter feud between the parties to the homicide, the facts of which may be briefly stated as follows: Some two or three months ago Isaiah Graham, the murdered man, was married to a woman in this city. A day or two afterward he was arrested upon the complaint of Thomas Ward, on the charge of seducing his step daughter. The Justice before whom the case was held, bound Graham over to the Circuit Court for the crime of seduction. He gave bail and resumed his duties as employe on one of the steamboats plying to and from this city. Meantime, there were frequent outbreaks among the members of the two families—the Wards and the Grahams—and not long since the wife of Graham was arrested at the instance of Ward, upon the charge of arson—attempting to burn the house occupied by Ward, and she was also held to answer. The Grand Jury ignored the woman upon the charge of arson, but upon the charge against Graham they returned "a true bill." This greatly enraged Ward, who regarded the law as no protection, and he made threats against the life of Graham which he was in earnest, too, in his threats, as subsequent events go to show. Ward attacked Graham on the street, and struck him over the head with a club, declaring at the same time that he would kill him.

ARREST OF WARD

This assault and the threats uttered from time to time induced Graham to seek the protection of the law, and yesterday morning he lodged a complaint before Justice T J Dryer, of Conch, and had Ward arrested upon a charge of threats to kill. Constable Johnson served the warrant and brought the prisoner into Court at about 10 A M.

SCENE OF THE COURT

Justice Dryer proceeded at once with the usual forms in such cases. The prisoner was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. The examination was then commenced on the part of the prosecution, by C B Upton, acting for the Prosecuting Attorney. The following is a copy of the minutes of the examination so far as it went up to the moment of the shooting.

Isaiah Graham sworn—Q What is your name and occupation? Answer—Isaiah Graham, my steamboating.

Q What do you know of the alleged threats made in this case. Answer My wife and I were going to Mr Russell's, Saturday. As I passed the shop, he got a club out and said "God damn you, I am going to kill you," and struck at me twice, but did not hit me.

Here the witness was interrupted and forever silenced by a pistol shot fired at him by the prisoner Ward.

MANNER OF THE KILLING

To describe accurately the scene of the murder it is necessary to explain the relative situation of parties in the room. The room as you enter the entrance is about twenty five feet long from the Front street door to the rear, and not more than 10 or 12 feet wide. Near the farther end of the room is Mr. Dryer's desk, on the left. At this table the Justice was seated. On the right of the room and nearer the door is another table, at which Mr. Upton was seated taking down the testimony of Graham. Graham was seated on the left hand side of the room, near Justice Dryer. Ward was seated on the right hand side nearer the door. The Constable had gone out to summon Graham's wife as a witness. There were two or three white men and colored men in the room beside the parties named. As Constable Johnson went out, Ward got up and followed him, and stood in the door way for a moment or two as if watching the constable. Suddenly Ward turned round, and as he did so, drew a navy revolver from a pocket in his clothing, and walked rapidly toward Graham without saying a word. Graham evidently saw the movement, for he jumped up and retreated rapidly to the other end of the room as if to throw himself behind Mr Dryer. He turned, then, to face his assailant, and just as he did so, Ward fired, and without speaking, reeled a moment, and fell nearly under the Justice's table. Mr. Dryer instantly sprang to his feet and seized Ward, trying to get the pistol away from him. Ward struggled with him, a moment, as if to fire the pistol again, but by the opportune assistance of other bystanders he was in a moment overpowered. The revolver, when taken from him, was found cocked, in readiness to fire again. There was a struggling between the prisoner and the officers till they got outside the door, when he gave up and was immediately taken to jail by the Justice himself and one or two others whom he summoned. Graham breathed only once or two after falling.

INQUEST UPON THE BODY

The body of the murdered man lay in the office where it had fallen till about 11 o'clock, when Justice Dryer summoned a Coroner's jury, and an inquest was held. The following is the verdict rendered by the jury

State of Oregon, Multnomah Co, SS

Inquest on the body of Isaiah Graham, June 21, 1871.

We, the jurors, having been summoned by the Coroner of Multnomah county, Oregon, to hold an inquest upon the body of Isaiah Graham, now lying dead in the office of T J Dryer, Coroner, do find, after hearing the evidence that the deceased came to his death by a pistol shot wound, in the hands of Thomas Ward. Witness our hands this 21st day of June, 1871. Signed,

J. Stewart, Foreman, J E Shephard, ... Hughes, George Herrall, J O Water

An examination of the body of the deceased showed that the pistol ball had entered the left side, high up and near the left side. The instantaneous and profuse flow of arterial blood, not only from the wound, but from the mouth, nose, and ears, showed that the heart or the large arteries leading from the heart to the brain had been severed by the fatal bullet.

THE MURDERER

Ward is in the county jail, and it is said that he takes the matter very coolly, evidently satisfied with his work, or not comprehending the enormity of the crime and the danger in which he places his own life.

New Tugboat—Mr T J Bulger, contractor, is building at the foot of Clay street, a tug boat for the Buchanan Brothers, of the following dimensions: Length, 95 feet, breadth of beam, 18 feet, depth of hold, 7 feet. She is to have a double propeller of four feet six inches diameter, driven by two 65 horse power engines. She is constructed for a "fifteen mile" boat, and is intended to do service in general towing on the Willamette and Columbia. Her owners expect to be able to make fast to a ship at this port and tow her out over the Columbia bar and they also intend to accommodate the people of Tillamook, Shoalwater Bay and Gray's Harbor by making occasional trips to those waters as occasion may demand. There seems to be need for the services of such a boat, and as her builders and owners who live in our own city, we trust they will receive liberal support from the people of Portland.

The Freaks of the Types.—If anybody read yesterday morning our item about "an ingenious rat trap," they must have wondered greatly what the "route of the railroad" had to do with a rat trap. Had we been writing about the Herald's "rat hole," the connection of railroad and rat would have been natural enough, but that was not the subject in hand, and the "route of the railroad" and "the western end of any railroad" was entirely foreign matter. The fact is the "route of the railroad" was injected by a "slip of the wrist," by a compositor who having something else on the brain was not minding his P's and Qs. The "route of the railroad and the western end of" had no business in the rat trap. If the reader will draw a blot line through the railroad route and western end the rat trap will read well enough.

Up the Columbia.—We are informed that the O S N Co will not receive freight or through passenger tickets, up the Columbia, for some days to come. The mails will be carried up to the Dalles, and passengers will probably be able to get through to that point daily if the water on the Cascades road gets no worse. The boats will leave the old De Chutes Landing every Monday morning for Wallula. Stages carry passengers from the Dalles to De Chutes.

Appointing R. R Thompson, P J Mann and G L Hoyt viewers in the matter of the extension of Main street. Adopted

The Council adjourned

Philharmonic Concert.—The Philharmonic Society has presented the programme for their concert to-morrow evening, consisting of some selections of very choice music, vocal and instrumental. This concert follows closely upon the last one, partly on account of an earnest desire expressed by our citizens for the repetition, and partly because the Society wishes to extricate itself from a large indebtedness incurred the last two years, during which time no concert was given. This will not be a repetition, properly speaking, of the former concert, as nearly all the pieces selected are new. Those acquainted with music will recognize in the programme several of the choicest gems to be found in musical composition. We believe, too, that the selections are better suited to the popular tastes than were those of the last concert. The society deserves well in every way of the Portland public and it is to be hoped that to morrow evening, the hall will be filled to the very last seat. See advertisement as to reserved seats

Acquitted.—Foster one of the "Rustlers" tried yesterday for larceny in the obtaining from George White a considerable sum of money by a swindling device, was acquitted by the jury. The other parties indicted with him were, on motion of the District Attorney discharged. Swindling is now declared by a jury no crime, and the "Rustlers" can go to work again unmolested. Juries are sometimes a queer institution

Wanted to Drown.—Some man, whose name we failed to obtain, attempted last evening to "shuffle off this mortal coil" by jumping off a wharf into the river. He was fished out very moist, but not much drowned, by some spectators who failed to see the good of going out of the world in such a hurry.

Damages to the Railroad.—A considerable part of the railroad embankment at the north end of the bridge near J B Stephens' house, has been washed down by the flood and there can be no passage of trains till the water shall recede enough to allow the refilling of the bank. The damage aside from the detention is slight

Partly True.—The rumor about the destruction of one of the railroad bridges at the Cascades, was partly true. The bridge has received so much damage that trains cannot cross till repairs shall be made. The bridge damaged is the one known as the Hamilton bridge

Families Coming.—Among the passengers by the John L Stephens, we note the names of twenty five persons who are accompanied with wives or families. In the passenger list of the Constantine there are twelve, accompanied in like manner

Delinquent Assessments.—The stockholders of the Masonic Building Association will save costs by calling on the Secretary J L Atkinson 102 Front street and paying the third assessment now overdue

Rehearsal.—The final rehearsal of the Philharmonic Society, preparatory to their forthcoming concert, will occur this evening at 8 o'clock at Oro Fino Theater

Assignee's Sale.—The Oriental Hotel at East Portland will be sold this morning at assignee's sale (in bankruptcy) by Mr A B Richardson, auctioneer

A Family Remedy.—No family should be without some efficacious remedy for the cure of affections so universally prevalent as coughs and colds—some remedy too which can be relied upon as safe, sure and certain. Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry combines this desideratum

A few words about S-T 1860 X which Mrs Partington says means "Satan turned loose in 1860; but she don't know what X means. Why good lady it is the national emblem—the sign over your door—the innocent Latin of Plantation Bitters. Everybody and everything has a sign or name. This is our sign, which has been read by more men, women and children, and carried a blessing into more families, in every part of the habitable globe, than any sign in America. But the name is of little consequence; it is the article which is so universally applicable for that numerous class of complaints which come under the head of "Out of Sorts."

Valuable Hints

A regular habit of body is essential to physical health ... Nature's ... Beauty of person cannot coexist with the unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage for the matter of the system through its natural channels is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint besides being dangerous in itself has many disagreeable concomitants—such as an unpleasant breath a sallow skin contaminating blood and bile hemorrhoids, headache loss of memory and general debility

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant or a tonic or an antibilious agent or a nervine or a blood depurent or a cathartic but all these curative elements judiciously blended into one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions and gives tone to the membrane which lines it gently stimulates the liver braces the nerves and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is as harmless as it is efficacious and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are sold in bottles only and the trade mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits

At the reception given Horace Greeley by the Union Club, of New York, on the 12th inst., on his return from his Southern tour, he spoke as follows:

He commenced by comparing the existing state of affairs with that ten years before the war; declaring that the rebellion and the sacrifices attended on it might have been spared had the North and South understood each other and free speech and fair interchange of opinion prevailed throughout the entire country. After referring to the circumstance of his visit to the South, and criticisms of the press on it and his speeches while there, he said it had been urged in several journals that his name is too often mentioned as a candidate for office, and he fully concurred in that suggestion. He was, in a [illegible] sense, a public man—identified with [illegible] contests and party principles. He had [illegible] reproved and reproached better men [illegible] himself because they did not accept office [illegible] left second rate men to fill them. [illegible] the last twenty years Greeley said he [illegible] four times a candidate—twice for [illegible], once for a Constitutional Convention, and once on a State ticket. Never had [illegible] a nomination, and never was he [illegible] in regard to it. "I am not grateful," said he, "to the Republican party for [illegible] nominations; I accepted them as I [illegible] any other duty; but for its support I [illegible] grateful. But the past is past, and let the [illegible] the dead. I am willing to pass receipts with the Republican party, for I could [illegible] being a Republican for the future. [illegible] have no office, desire no office, and though [illegible] shall not decline a nomination which has [illegible] been given to me, I shall seek no office. [illegible] however, willing to do my duty. I [illegible] work enough for which I am reasonably [illegible] too much notoriety, and the more [illegible] peaceful my remaining days shall [illegible] I shall be satisfied." With these [illegible] Greeley left the subject of his own [illegible], and reviewed at length the [illegible] incidents in his journey South, the impressions of Southern politics and society, and urging [illegible] his familiar view of liberal and generous treatment to the conquered States. He spoke in severe terms of the Ku Klux, which he said, Government should have extirpated at once and forever: and in severer and more sarcastic condemnation of the thieving carpet-baggers, who, he said, were a curse to the South and a disgrace to the North whence they came. Carpet-baggers [illegible] plunder and prey upon the negroes and poor whites, while pretending to be anxious for the education and salvation of their souls, and said were the greatest existing obstacle to Republican ascendency in the South, and so [illegible] them. He alluded to the new departure of the Democratic party and said it was fully satisfied. They would not make too much of it, and he did not understand the professed sorrow for warfare against human rights, but if the Democrats accepted these Republican amendments to the Constitution he would be satisfied. It is asked, will this not put the Republican party out of power? He thought it would take some time for the people to have much faith in the new creed, but it would strengthen the Democracy. In conclusion he summoned all around him to prepare for new issues and the struggle which opens before us. Questions of industrial policy, of national advancement and prosperity daily make more imperative demands for the best and most honorable service of the American citizen. Greeley closed with an eloquent apostrophe to the new and broader future which he hoped for the whole country with peace, unity, prosperity, and retired amid hearty cheers from thousands.

Andy Johnson on the New Departure.

The rooms of his Excellency and your correspondent in the Lamar House are near together, [illegible] us to frequently meet and talk politics with great vigor.

I was in last evening and witnessed a sort of love-feast between the ex-President and a chosen few of his friends. Sugar and bottles, and so forth, were on the table. Old times were talked about and the iniquities of Radical rule descanted upon.

The question was asked Mr. Johnson what he thought of the Vallandigham departure.

"I haven't read the entire platform," replied he, "but from what I hear of it, there are some sensible points in it. But we must not depart too much. So to speak, there is as much in getting too far away as staying too near. There are middle grounds which it is the best policy to occupy. The trouble is that some of our party want to accept too much, and others don't want to accept anything. It should not be the policy of the Democracy to threaten to use force against the reconstruction acts or against the recent amendments. There is a lawful and constitutional remedy for every evil. Our party is a party of peace, of law, of order. We want no violent measures. In my opinion, the letter of Frank Blair to Broadhead at the eve of the last Presidential campaign did a great deal of harm. Why? Because it was so written as to be construed into a threat that in case the Democracy came to power they would use force against the reconstruction acts. Now, we should not threaten force, nor anything like it. There is a peaceable remedy, and that is in convincing the people that the last two amendments to the Constitution and the reconstruction acts are wrong. It is within the province of the people to alter these things if they will. The true policy is to accept all these things as accomplished facts, but at the same time leave ourselves free to hereafter urge their abrogation at the bar of reason and justice. I have always had great faith in the good sense and intelligence of the American people. We must appeal to them to remedy these evils, but to do it in a lawful and constitutional way. Another amendment can be adopted that will do away with the evils of the last two. I have no faith in a remedy through the courts. It looks for a remedy in the future, and I am not going to say, and no other Democrat should say, that he accepts the reconstruction measures and amendments as finalities, and that no attempt will be made in the future to get rid of them in a lawful and peaceable manner. We should not commit ourselves to any such absurd doctrine. We should boldly proclaim that we accept these amendments and acts as the law of the land now; but that we will hereafter use every honorable means to convince the people that they should be abrogated and repealed. If the people will not do it, then of course it cannot be done. But for us to say that we will forever close our lips against these iniquities is d—d nonsense."—Knoxville Correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial.

THE GAINES CASE AGAIN ON TRIAL IN NEW ORLEANS. This eternal litigation is again upon us, with all its horrors. A proceeding was long ago commenced in the Second District Court to annul the judgment once rendered by the Court, probating the lost will in favor of Mrs. Gaines and recognizing her heirship. It was upon this will the judgments of the Supreme Court of the United States in favor of Mrs. Gaines are based. The suit to set aside a judgment which has produced these results, necessarily involves a great deal of [illegible] disputation, which, we presume, will consume much time and elicit a vast display of hair-splitting and legal polemics. It is fortunate that so learned and astute a magistrate as Judge Collens presides over this [illegible]. The indefatigable lady who, for over [illegible] years, has prosecuted her claims to the property of Daniel Clark, is still on hand, battling for her rights with undiminished vigor and pertinacity. She and her suit have survived several generations of lawyers and judges.—N. O. Times, May 21st.

NEW DICTIONARY WANTED.—Upon some of the papers submitted by applicants before a certain Board of Examiners that shall be nameless, were found the following improvements upon Webster and Worcester's Unabridged in the way of definitions: Phlebotomy, "pertaining to flowers," "pertaining to the study of botany." Postillion, "pertaining to soldiers," "an army on horseback." Barrister, "pertaining to a minister," "a [illegible]" (perhaps the writer meant blockade), "to enclose." Promissory, "proud." It is needless to say that the papers containing these original definitions were not marked "perfect."

Oak and linden trees have been planted, with many observances, in a number of German villages in honor of the return of peace.

FOREIGN NOTES.

The population of Liverpool is shown by the census to have decreased 35,000 in the last ten years.

The Emperor William of Germany is a direct descendant of Gaspard de Coligny, who was the principal victim of the massacre of St. Bartholomew, in 1572.

A Prussian soldier in a Berlin hospital, who had had a leg amputated, became so weak from loss of blood that his life was despaired of. Finally as a last resort, the doctors determined to try the transfusion of blood in his case. A stout, healthy Bavarian was selected, and the blood from his arm was injected into the veins of the dying man, who began at once to recover.

A private letter from a trustworthy source in Berlin, says: Moreover, you may be interested in knowing that the National party in Russia are urging the Czar to war against Austria in order to prepare the way to Constantinople by weakening the Hapsburgs. Whether the Czar will allow himself to be led into this adventure is difficult to predict; however, the temptation is very great. Germany would remain neutral, and France would hardly be in position to do much. Still, it would always be a great venture, greater from the fact that the Russian army will require several years to complete its new organization.

The English papers tell us that one effect of the late Prussian occupation of the champagne district has been to increase enormously the exports of brandy to England. The bonded stock of brandy there now amounts to nearly thirteen million gallons, and the quantity in bond at the end of the last quarter amounted to upwards of four and a half million gallons more than at the same time the year previous. And these enormous imports still continue on the same scale, causing the temperance men in England considerable anxiety and uneasiness.

Great Britain is pursuing energetically her now policy of confederating her colonies. First the Canadian and other provinces of northeastern America were joined in the so called Dominion. Now the British Columbian provinces, on the Pacific coast, including Vancouver Island, are to be joined to the Dominion. All preliminaries having been settled, as heretofore detailed in our columns, the Home Government has directed the formal union to take place on the 20th of next month. A scheme for the confederation of the Australian colonies, Tasmania and New Zealand, has also been broached, and another for the confederation of the little West Indian group, known as the Leeward Islands, though this name comprehends several islands belonging to other Powers, the British possessions being only Dominica, Montserrat, Antigua, St. Cristopher, Anguilla and the Virgin group.

THE UNK WEED REMEDY

HISTORY.

THIS REMEDY IS COMPOSED OF THE ACTIVE principle of the Unk Weed, Eng.—Thasplum Cordatum Origanis, Lat.—Indigenous to Oregon. Grows most abundantly and perfectly in Washington county.

It is the most sure and speedy cure for RHEUMATISM, RHEUMATIC GOUT AND RHEUMATIC PAINS, of all kinds that was ever introduced in the Materia Medica.

Read the following certificates of the above fact from several of the most distinguished citizens of Oregon.

Certificate from A. R. Shipley, Esq., special contributor to the Willamette Farmer, and Secretary of the Oregon Horticultural Society:

OSWEGO, OR., March 29, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA—Some four weeks ago I was entirely prostrated with Rheumatism; in fact I was almost helpless. I sent to you for one 10-ounce bottle of the "Unk Weed Remedy," by the use of which I experienced almost immediate relief; and by the time the bottle was gone the Rheumatism was gone. From my own experience, and from what I have heard others say who have used the Unk Weed, I believe it to be a certain cure for Rheumatism. Yours, respectfully, A. R. SHIPLEY.

Certificate from the Hon. A. J. Dufur, ex-President of the Oregon State Agricultural Society, and author of "Statistics of Oregon:"

EAST PORTLAND, April 1, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I was afflicted with a severe attack of Chronic Rheumatism; was confined to my bed most of the time from January to July, when I used the Unk Weed, and it cured me up. A. J. DUFUR.

Certificate from Hon. Gideon Tibbetts, a member of the City Council of East Portland:

EAST PORTLAND, April 7, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—Gents: This is to inform you that I have used your "Unk Weed Remedy" for Neuralgia and Rheumatic pains, and found relief from the use of only one bottle, and can recommend it to those in need of such a remedy. Yours, GIDEON TIBBETTS.

Certificate from Mr. James Bybee, the celebrated stock grower and "King of the Oregon Turf:"

SAUVIE'S ISLAND, January 14, 1871.

To DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—This is to acknowledge the efficacy of your "Unk Weed Remedy, or Oregon Rheumatic Cure." I was afflicted for months with a very serious attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism, and tried nearly all the so-called Rheumatic remedies without any relief perceivable. I then tried your Remedy, and its use resulted in the most happy effects—a perfect cure.
Truly yours, JAMES BYBEE.

Certificate from Hon. E. L. Quimby, ex-County Commissioner of Multnomah county, Oregon:

EAST PORTLAND, April 1, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I have used the "Unk Weed Remedy," and am satisfied it is a valuable medicine. It regulates and invigorates the system. This is my experience with the remedy. Truly yours, E. L. QUIMBY.

Certificate from Hon. N. H. Lane, Pilot Commissioner of Oregon, and a member of the City Council of East Portland:

EAST PORTLAND, April 19, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I have been afflicted for several years with "weakness in the back," and wandering Rheumatic pains, accompanied by severe constipation. By the use of one bottle of your Unk Weed Remedy, or Oregon Rheumatic Cure, I have been entirely relieved, and I cheerfully recommend it as a most valuable and efficient remedy. NAT. H. LANE.

Certificate from the well-known merchant, O. W. Weaver, Esq.

THE DALLES, May 23, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I have used the "Unk Weed Remedy" and can cheerfully recommend it to persons afflicted with Inflammatory Rheumatism. It cured me of that disease. My hands, wrists, ankles, indeed, all my joints were swollen and very painful. O. W. WEAVER.

Certificate from the celebrated musician, Prof. Otto Vieuxtemps:

OREGON MUSICAL INSTITUTE, PORTLAND, May 22, 1871.

DR. A. M. LORYEA & CO.—I was attacked with severe Inflammatory Rheumatism, suffering great pain, and was so prostrated that I was unable to attend to my business. I used one bottle of your Unk Weed Remedy, or Oregon Rheumatic Cure, and was entirely cured by it alone. OTTO VIEUXTEMPS.

Put up in 10-ounce bottles, at $1 50 per bottle.
